SHOW THEM NO MERCY.

The mortality among babes has been ascribed by some to the use of the adulterated milk which has been delivered throughout the City by various dairies. Dr. C. B. Wood has given the matter a great deal of consideration. "While I cannot say that the deeath rate of infants is attributable to · adulteration of milk," said he, "it is certain that it could have no good effect. Milk is given infants for nourishment, and when watered it lacks the nourishment; besides, one canno tell what kind of water is used in diluting the milk. It is probably reservoir water, and of the kind not calculated to better the health of any one-particularly that of an infant. Of course most of the milk given children is boiled anyway, and in that case the injurious effect of the adulteration is destroyed, but the nourishment is lessened. Outside a medical standpoint, I think the offending milkmen should be punished to the full extent of the law. It is a bald fraud above all else. It is said that Irish moss was found in the milk that was examined. This in itself is harmless and could not cause any bad physical effects, but the man who resorts to such a swindle should not be shown any mercy. The dairies have all had fair warning, and I do not think it would be too severe to publish the names of the offending ones and warn the public against them, even though they have succeeded in escaping the law by technicalities. Such an act would work a great deal of injury to

A MILITARY SPECTACLE.

As a military spectacle alone the proceedings on Commonwealth day should be of a gloriously picturesque character. Side by side with the flower of the British army there will be gathered together the cream of the soldiers of the Sydney Prepares a Big Southern Cross, and the valiant colored warriors from India, who in themselves Southern Cross, and the valiant colored will, perhaps, form one of the most picturesque elements in the celebrations. Victoria is to make a brave military show and 600 picked men, horse and foot, and a band of fifty performers are under orders. Troops of emufeathered, hardy Queenslanders, and also specially selected contingents from the other colonies, are coming. Then there are the "grim, gaunt and granitefaced" New Zealanders, as one man has called them. Outside of the Imperial and Indian troops the men from the land of the Maori will be one of the features of the procession. New Zealand's patriotic stock stands high in Australasia. DISEASES FROM THE WATER.

Dr. Cooper, when asked about the effects of adulterated milk on infants, said: "I can not say that the increased mortality among infants is due to the use of adulterated milk, but I can say that the sale of watered milk should be stopped. Speaking from a medical standpoint, I cannot say that the water in the diluted milk has any particularly injurious effects, except it be that the water used is impure. It is a well-known fact that the water supplied to the City is not of the best, most of it being surface water and coming from the reservoirs. The water used in diluting the milk assuredly is not of a better quality than the average, and every physician in the City will tell you that a large percentage of the fevers, congestions and diarrhoeas are due to the character of the water supplied to the populace of Honolulu."
